SUPPLEMENTAL INTERVIEW SUMMARY

Dear Sir:

This is a supplemental summary of the personal interview held on August 4, 2003 (the "Interview") among Examiners Jeremy T. Thissell and Brian Casler and applicant's counsel. The following information supplements the Examiner's Interview Summary provided at the conclusion of the Interview.

At the commencement of the Interview there was a discussion regarding the MacKool reference, i.e. U.S. Patent No. 5,354,265. Applicant's representative noted differences between the claimed invention (i.e., Claims 12-17) and this reference as identified in previous communications with the Patent Office.

There was also a brief discussion regarding the Examiners' interpretation of the claims in light of the preamble. The Examiners reiterated that the preamble had been considered in examination of the claims. Examiner Thissell, however, clarified that the pending rejection was based on the view that it was improper to define the claimed "protective sheath" by limitations relative to the unclaimed "elongate ultrasonic probe." Applicants' counsel expressed his belief that this is an appropriate way of claiming an invention supported by case law authority. Counsel agreed to provide that authority in the response to the extant rejection.

There was also a brief discussion regarding the possibility of presenting additional claims directly focused to the embodiment shown in Figure 1.

Respectfully submitted this 17th day of December 2003.
